POSITIONAL LOTTERY BET SLIP AND CHART

ABSTRACT

A lottery bet slip is disclosed, having boxes (boards) with numbers divided into two or more areas (positions). Said bet slip numbers are divided into two or more positions with the use of lines, lines in color(s), or combination(s) of both to define said positions. Further, said bet slip numbers are divided into two or more positions with the use of color(s) in the back ground to define said positions. Further yet, said bet slip numbers are divided into two or more positions with the use of color(s) to define said positions. And still further, said bet slips are provided in size(s) to fit lottery machinery used to record and register said lottery bet slip(s).

Additionally, a chart is disclosed, composed of lottery bet slips with boards having numbers divided into two or more positions. Said chart relates to said bet slip in selected position(s) with the use of lines, utilizing color(s) for lines, numbers or background, combination to define said positions. The composition of similar marked boards helps a player to manage game activities. Charts made up of multiple bet slip-like boards divided into two or more positions are used for tracking. monitoring. selecting, mixing. identifying numbers by hot and cold position(s). Charts are also designed to relate to any bet slip with boxes to match those of winning numbers drawn. player is better able to determine active and inactive areas of numbers of a bet slip. In addition, a player is better able to compile bet slip records to relate to numbers played and winning numbers drawn by position(s).

FIELD OF THE INVENTION

The present invention is related to providing a bet slip having boards containing numbers divided into two or more positions.

The present invention is also related to providing a bet slip having boards containing numbers divided into two or more positions and compiled in a format, similar to a chart. Said positions are marked and defined with lines, with the use of color(s), or both.

DESCRIPTION OF THE PRIOR ART

Lottery bet slips are divided into a series of boards containing numbers for players to select from to play games. Each board of a bet slip has continuous numbers from one to approximately 10, 20, 30, 40, 50, 60, and more. The numbers of each board are organized into one position; approximately 1 to 10 numbers, 1 to 20, 1 to 30, 1 to 40, 1 to 50 and so on. Further, when winning numbers are drawn over a specific period of time, a player has no 'visual bet slip picture' of hot and cold areas of said bet slip to relate to before selecting numbers to Further yet, when play. winning numbers are drawn, there is no visual bet slip history to show patterns of previous hits, upward and downward trends of numbers, hot and cold numbers by position(s) or otherwise.

SUMMARY OF THE PRENSENT INVENTION

Accordingly, an object of the present invention is to provide a bet slip having boxes (Boards), containing numbers divided into two or more areas of a board called positions for playing lotteries, Keno, and similar random type games.

Another object of the present invention is to provide a bet slip having boards containing numbers divided into two or more positions with the use of lines, utilizing color(s) for lines or numbers, or both to define said positions.

Another object of the present invention is to provide a bet slip with boards containing numbers divided into two or more positions with the use of lines, utilizing color(s) for lines or said numbers, or both, to define said positions, together with a multiple of said boards in chart-like grouping(s) or in a format of continuation.

Another object of the present invention is to provide a chart having multiple boards from a bet slip, containing numbers divided into two or more positions with the use of lines, utilizing color(s), or both in chart-like grouping(s) or in a format of continuation.

Another object of the present invention is to provide a chart having multiple boards similar to those of existing bet slips, in chart-like grouping(s) or in a format of continuation, having boards containing numbers, divided into two or more positions, with the use of lines, utilizing color(s) for lines or numbers, or both to define said positions.

Another object of the present invention is to provide positional bet slips in chart-like grouping(s) or in a format of continuation, having boards containing said numbers, divided into two or more positions, utilizing color(s) for lines or numbers, or both to define said positions.

Another object of the present invention is to provide bet slips in chart-like grouping(s) or format having boards containing numbers, divided into two or more positions with the use of lines, utilizing color(s) for lines or numbers, or both to define said positions.

Another object of the present invention is to provide bet slips in chart-like grouping(s), having boards with numbers divided into two or more positions or in grouping(s) or in a format of continuation of said bet slip.

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE DRAWINGS

The following examples are intended for illustration only and are not intended to limit my invention in any combination of related ways shown. Figure 1 is a portion of a bet slip containing multiple boxes (boards) having an upper and lower portion. Both upper and lower portions have horizontal numbering divided into four positions. Figure 2 is a portion of a bet slip containing multiple boxes having an upper and lower portion. The upper portion has horizontal numbering divided into five positions. The lower portion has horizontal numbering divided into four positions. Figure 3 is a portion of a bet slip containing multiple boxes having an upper and lower portion. Both upper and lower portions have horizontal numbering divided into three positions.

Figure 4 is a portion of a bet slip containing multiple boxes (boards). Each box has horizontal numbering divided into four positions. Figure 5 is a portion of a bet slip containing multiple boxes (boards). Each box has horizontal numbering divided into four positions. Figure 6 is a portion of a bet slip containing multiple boxes. Each box has vertical numbering divided into three positions. Figure 7 is a chart containing multiples of boxes (boards) of a bet slip with horizontal numbers divided into four positions. Figure 8 is a chart containing boxes (boards) similar to an existing bet slip with horizontal numbers divided into four positions. Figure 9 is a chart containing multiples of boxes (boards) of a bet slip with horizontal numbers divided into four positions. Figure 10 is a chart containing multiples of boxes (boards) of a bet slip with horizontal numbers in the upper and lower portions divided into five Figure 11 positions. is a chart containing multiples of boxes (boards) similar to an existing bet slip with horizontal numbers in the upper and lower portions divided into three positions. Figure 12 is chart containing multiples of boxes (boards) similar to an existing bet slip with vertical numbers divided into three positions. Figure 13 is a containing multiples of boxes (boards) similar to an existing bet slip with horizontal numbers in the upper portion divided into five positions and lower portion into four positions.

Having thus described my invention, I claim:

- 1. A bet slip having boxes (boards) containing numbers divided into two or more positions and marked with the use of lines, to define said positions.
- 2. A bet slip having boxes (boards) containing numbers divided into two or more positions and marked with the use of lines, utilizing color(s), or both, to define said positions.
